

Recordings of Live Performances

Show : _____ Date: _____

The Royal Room has the ability to record any performance on Pro Tools 10.0.1. If the band requests the engineer to record, the recordings are available for purchase by the performers. If the recordings are not purchased The Royal Room withholds the right to delete them. Specifics package and pricing offers are listed below. If you have any questions about the recordings or fees please speak to your sound person, or contact us at the email addresses/ phone numbers at the bottom of this form.

To obtain your files we transfer the data to an external hard drive, laptop or flash drive that you provide. Please bring the storage device to the performance. Otherwise contact your engineer and organize another time to come to the club to pick them up.

Understand the files you receive: The Royal Room provides "raw files". Raw files are not completed tracks, they are individual tracks from the Protools session. If you purchase the 4 mono tracks (Room Mic L/R, Soundboard feed L/R) you will receive four individual audio files, one for each track, and they need additional processing before use as a bounced .mp3 or .wav. The video files are raw data AVCHD files. They also need additional processing before they can be uploaded to YouTube or played on many video players. If you want your files in a specific format (.mp3, .wav, .mov videos, ect) ask your sound engineer about file conversion.

Having your files mixed: We offer raw files so the musician has the option to mix the tracks themselves. If, however, you do not have a way to mix them or would like someone else to do them for you, your sound engineer can mix the files down at an hourly rate, which is left to the engineer's discretion.
